Subj.: Federal Research Update Webinar

Date: October 16, 2012

The Division of Research would like to advise the university research community that the State University System of Florida, in conjunction with the University of Missouri and the National Association of College and University Business Officers, is offering a week-long free Federal Research Update webinar on the latest federal agency updates related to research, budget priorities and policies.

The webinar is open to the entire university community and will be broadcast live from Washington D.C. Monday October 29 through Friday November 2 and registered viewers can watch any or all of the individual 90 minute presentations throughout the week from the comfort of any internet enabled computer.

The webinar will include updates from key funding agencies, including NIH, NSF, DoD, and DoE as well as updates from the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy.

Registration information is available online at <http://research.missouri.edu/federalupdate/registration> .
